“the Act” means the Sanctions and Anti-Money Laundering Act 2018;

“arrangement” includes any agreement, understanding, scheme, transaction or series of transactions, whether or not legally enforceable (but see paragraph 12 of Schedule 1 (rules for interpretation of regulation 9(2)) for the meaning of “arrangement” in that Schedule);

“conduct” includes acts and omissions;

Application of prohibitions and requirements outside the United Kingdom

3.—(1) A United Kingdom person may contravene a relevant prohibition by conduct wholly or partly outside the United Kingdom.

(2) Any person may contravene a relevant prohibition by conduct in the territorial sea.

(3) In this regulation, a “relevant prohibition” means any prohibition imposed by—

(a) The power to make regulations under Part 1 of the Sanctions and Anti-Money Laundering Act 2018 (c. 13) is conferred on an “appropriate Minister”. Section 1(9)(a) of that Act defines an “appropriate Minister” as including the Secretary of State.

(6) In this regulation, a “relevant requirement” means any requirement imposed—

- (a) by or under Part 7 (information and records), or by reason of a request made under a power conferred by that Part, or
- (b) by a condition of a Treasury licence.

(7) Nothing in this regulation is to be taken to prevent a relevant prohibition or a relevant requirement from applying to conduct (by any person) in the United Kingdom.

Purposes

4.—(1) The purposes of the regulations contained in this instrument are to prevent and combat—

- (a) people smuggling;
- (b) trafficking in persons;
- (c) the instrumentalisation of migration for the purpose of destabilisation.

(2) In paragraph (1)—

“instrumentalisation of migration for the purpose of destabilisation” occurs where the government of a country (“X”), or other person who is in control of X or is otherwise responsible for administering the affairs of X, or a group backed by the government or a person who is in control of X, facilitates, encourages or assists (in each case whether by an act or omission)—

- (a) the movement of an individual in X towards the border of X,
- (b) an individual in X to travel, whether directly or indirectly, to any country other than X,
- (c) the movement of an individual in a country other than X (“Y”) towards the border of Y, or
- (d) an individual in Y to travel, whether directly or indirectly, to any country other than X or Y, for the purpose of causing the destabilisation of any country other than X;

“people smuggling” occurs where a person facilitates (whether by an act or omission) with a view to obtaining (directly or indirectly) any gain or benefit—

- (a) the unlawful entry into,
- (b) the unlawful arrival in, or
- (c) the unlawful stay in, a country of an individual who is not a national of that country or permanently resident in it;

(3) The types of conduct specified in this paragraph are the—

- (a) recruitment,
- (b) transportation,
- (c) transfer,
- (d) harbouring, or
- (e) receipt,

of any individual (“A”) by B.

(4) The condition in this paragraph is that the conduct specified in paragraph (3) is undertaken—

- (a) for the purpose of exploitation of A, and
- (b) using—
 - (i) coercive means, or
 - (ii) where A has not yet reached the age of 18, any means.

(5) For the purpose of paragraph (4)(b), the identity of the person who uses the means is irrelevant.

(6) For the purpose of the definition of “trafficking in persons” in paragraph (2), any consent purportedly given by A to—

- (a) A’s recruitment, transportation, transfer, harbouring or receipt, or
- (b) the exploitation which is the purpose of A’s recruitment, transportation, transfer, harbouring or receipt, is irrelevant.

(7) A is not to be treated as having been trafficked under the definition of “trafficking in persons” in paragraph (2) if—

- (a) A has not yet reached the age of 18,
- (b) no coercive means are used, and
- (c) either of the conditions in paragraph (8) applies.

(8) These are the conditions referred to in paragraph (7)—

- (a) the condition in this sub-paragraph is that—
 - (i) A consents to the removal of an organ (see definition of “exploitation” in paragraph (9)), or
 - (ii) if A is not able to give such consent, A’s parent, guardian or, if A is in the care of an organisation, a person representing that organisation consent;
- (b) the condition in this sub-paragraph is that—
 - (i) A consents to being used to provide services of any kind (see definition of “exploitation” in paragraph (9)) regardless of whether A is rewarded for that use or not, and
 - (ii) a reasonable individual aged 18 or over would not consider that A being used for that purpose amounted to exploitation.

(9) In this regulation—

“coercive means” means—

- (a) the threat or use of force or other coercive behaviour;
- (b) abduction, kidnap or false imprisonment;
- (c) fraud or other deception;

- (d) abuse of power or a position of vulnerability;
- (e) the giving or receiving of payments to achieve the consent of a person who has control over an individual;

“exploitation” includes—

- (a) being subjected to slavery, servitude or forced or compulsory labour;
- (b) being prostituted by another person or otherwise being subject to sexual exploitation;
- (c) being subjected to force designed to induce that person to provide services of any kind;
- (d) the removal of organs;
- (e) the use of an individual under the age of 18 for the purpose of the provision of services of any kind;

“unlawful arrival in a country” occurs where an individual commits, including by fraud or other deception, a breach or attempted breach of a law which has effect in any country and which controls, in respect of some or all individuals who are not nationals of the country or permanently resident in it, entitlement to arrive in that country;

“unlawful entry into a country” occurs where an individual commits, including by fraud or other deception, a breach or attempted breach of a law which has effect in any country and which controls, in respect of some or all individuals who are not nationals of the country or permanently resident in it, entitlement to enter into that country;

“unlawful stay in a country” occurs where an individual commits, including by fraud or other deception, a breach or attempted breach of a law which has effect in any country and which controls, in respect of some or all individuals who are not nationals of the country or permanently resident in it, entitlement to remain in that country.

(10) For the purpose of paragraph (8), a person specified in paragraph (11) may only give consent if it is reasonable to do so having regard to all the circumstances of the case.

(11) The persons specified in this paragraph are—

- (a) A,
- (b) A’s parent or guardian, or
- (c) if A is in the care of an organisation, a person representing that organisation.

(13) In this regulation—

(5) In this regulation a “statement of reasons”, in relation to a designation, means a brief statement of the matters that the Secretary of State knows, or has reasonable grounds to suspect, in relation to that person—

- (a) in the case of a designation under the standard procedure, which have led the Secretary of State to make the designation, and

(2) The Secretary of State—

- (a) must without delay take such steps as are reasonably practicable to inform persons of the specified description of the designation, variation or revocation, and
- (b) must take steps to publicise the designation, variation or revocation.

(3) The information given under paragraph (2)(a)—

(iii) setting out why the Secretary of State considers that condition E is met.

(4) Where the Secretary of State provides that persons of a specified description are designated persons under the urgent procedure, the Secretary of State must, after the end of the period mentioned in paragraph (8) of regulation 7 (conditions for the designation of persons by description), or if the Secretary of State has made a certification under paragraph (8)(b) of that regulation the period mentioned in paragraph (9) of that regulation, but otherwise without delay—

- (a) in a case where the persons cease to be designated persons, take such steps as are reasonably practicable to inform persons of the specified description that they have ceased to be designated persons, or

2. If two or more persons each hold a share or right jointly, each of them is treated as holding that share or right.

Joint arrangements

3.—(1) If shares or rights held by a person and shares or rights held by another person are the subject of a joint arrangement between those persons, each of them is treated as holding the combined shares or rights of both of them.

(2) A “joint arrangement” is an arrangement between the holders of shares or rights that they will exercise all or substantially all the rights conferred by their respective shares or rights jointly in a way that is pre-determined by the arrangement.

(3) “Arrangement” has the meaning given by paragraph 12.

Calculating shareholdings

4.—(1) In relation to a person who has a share capital, a reference to holding “more than 50% of the shares” in that person is to holding shares comprised in the issued share capital of that person of a nominal value exceeding (in aggregate) 50% of that share capital.

(2) In relation to a person who does not have a share capital—

(a) a reference to holding shares in that person is to holding a right or rights to share in the capital or, as the case may be, profits of that person;

(b) a reference to holding “more than 50% of the shares” in that person is to holding a right or rights to share in more than 50% of the capital or, as the case may be, profits of that person.

Voting rights

5.—(1) A reference to the voting rights in a person is to the rights conferred on shareholders in respect of their shares (or, in the case of a person not having a share capital, on members) to vote at general meetings of the person on all or substantially all matters.

(2) In relation to a person that does not have general meetings at which matters are decided by the exercise of voting rights—

- (a) a reference to holding voting rights in the person is to be read as a reference to holding rights in relation to the person that are equivalent to those of a person entitled to exercise voting rights in a company;
- (b) a reference to holding “more than 50% of the voting rights” in the person is to be read as a reference to holding the right under the constitution of the person to block changes to the overall policy of the person or to the terms of its constitution.

6. In applying regulation 9(2) and this Schedule, the voting rights in a person are to be reduced by any rights held by the person itself.

Rights to appoint or remove members of the board

7. A reference to the right to appoint or remove a majority of the board of directors of a person is to the right to appoint or remove directors holding a majority of the voting rights at meetings of the board on all or substantially all matters.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Regulations)

These Regulations are made under the Sanctions and Anti-Money Laundering Act 2018 (c. 13) to establish a sanctions regime for the purpose of preventing and combating people smuggling, trafficking in persons and the instrumentalisation of migration for the purpose of destabilising a country.

The Regulations confer a power on the Secretary of State to designate persons who are, or have been, involved in people smuggling, trafficking in persons or instrumentalisation of migration, as well as criminal activities which facilitate, promote or provide support for such smuggling, trafficking or instrumentalisation or which are intended to do so. Designated persons may be excluded from the United Kingdom and may be made subject to financial sanctions, including having their funds or economic resources frozen, as well as director disqualification sanctions.

The Regulations provide for certain exceptions to this sanctions regime (for example to allow for frozen accounts to be credited with interest or other earnings and to allow acts done for the purpose of national security or the prevention of serious crime). The Regulations also confer powers on the Treasury and Secretary of State to issue licences in respect of activities that would otherwise be prohibited under the Regulations. Schedule 2 sets out the purposes for which the Treasury will issue such licences.

The Regulations prescribe powers for the provision and sharing of information to enable the effective implementation and enforcement of the sanctions regime. The Regulations make it a criminal offence to contravene, or circumvent, any of the prohibitions in these Regulations and prescribe the mode of trial and penalties that apply to such offences.

A full impact assessment has not been produced for this instrument as no, or no significant, impact on the private, voluntary or public sector is foreseen. Instead a de minimis assessment has been prepared as this instrument is likely to entail some costs for businesses, but the net impact is estimated to be below £10 million per year.
